Past performance is not a guide to future returns. Source: Invesco, Bloomberg L.P., FactSet. ETF performance shown is calculated with reference to the Net Asset Value, inclusive of net reinvested income and net of ongoing charges and portfolio transaction costs, in EUR. The figures do not reflect the actual share price, the impact of the bid/offer spread or broker commissions. ETF NAV performance differs from that of the index due to the ongoing charges and portfolio transaction costs and due to the fact that the ETF does not necessarily always hold all the securities in the index in their respective weighting. This ETF does not charge an entry fee. For share classes with fewer than five 12 month periods since launch, performance data does not exist for some of the periods covered in the standardised 12 month performance table.

¹FTSE-T-Weighted US Fallen Angel Bond Select Index: Please note on 31 July 2018 the benchmark changed its name from Citi Time-Weighted US Fallen Angel Bond Select Index to FTSE Time-Weighted US Fallen Angel Bond Select Index. This has not impacted the investment objective of this ETF. The Benchmark is designed to measure the performance of "fallen angels" - bonds which were previously rated investment-grade, but were subsequently downgraded to high-yield. The Benchmark is based on the FTSE Time-Weighted US Fallen Angel Bond Index which includes USDdenominated bonds issued by corporations domiciled in the US or Canada. Any such bonds with a rating changed from investment-grade to high-yield in the previous month are eligible for inclusion and will be held for a period of 60 months, provided they continue to meet the inclusion criteria. If a bond exits and then reenters the Benchmark, the inclusion period is reset. Unlike indices where constituent weights are based on market value, the Benchmark's weights are determined based on the time from inclusion, with higher weights assigned to bonds that have more recently become "fallen angels" (aiming to capture the potential price rebound effect that fallen angels may experience soon after their initial downgrade to high-yield). An issuer cap of 5% is applied. For liquidity, each issue is also capped at 5x its original market value weight.

Investment risk

The value of investments, and any income from them, will fluctuate. This may partly be the result of changes in exchange rates. Investors may not get back the full amount invested.

Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which relates to the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date.

Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund.

This fund may hold a significant amount of debt instruments which are of lower credit quality. This may result in large fluctuations of the value of the ETF as well as impacting its liquidity under certain circumstances.

Glossary

ETF: Exchange traded fund. A type of fund that is traded on the stockmarket like ordinary shares. ETFs can be bought and sold during trading hours, like ordinary shares, whereas other types of funds are priced once a day only.

Ongoing charge: is based on annualised expenses. It excludes portfolio transaction costs.

Hedged: Foreign exchange forward contracts are used to hedge asset classes, i.e., to protect them against currency fluctuations. The objective is to achieve a performance that is just as great as the performance of the underlying currency.

UCITS: An abbreviation for "Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferrable Securities". In a European legal context, these are investment funds that invest in legally defined types of securities and other financial instruments (securities funds).

Replication Method: Strategy employed by the fund to achieve its objective, Physical funds invest directly in constituents of the benchmark index

Distribution Yield: The distribution yield is a measurement of cash flow being paid. It's the sum of the distributions over 12 months divided by the net asset value (NAV) of the fund.

Yield to maturity: Yield to Maturity is the rate of the return anticipated on a bond if it is held until the maturity date.

Yield to worst: Yield to Worst. The lowest yield an investor can expect when investing in a callable bond.

Effective duration: Effective Duration is a measure of the potential impact on a bond's (or a portfolio of bonds') price of a 1% change in interest rates, across all maturities. This measure takes into account the possible changes in expected bond cash flows for bonds with embedded optionality (for example, the bond issuer's right to redeem bonds at a pre-determined price on certain dates) due to the 1% change in interest rates.

Investment grade (high quality): Fixed-income securities with high credit quality (rated at least "BBB" by S&P).
