

Invesco Euro Corporate Bond UCITS ETF

This document is for use in the UK, Ireland and Switzerland only, and for Professional / Qualified Investors and Qualified Clients as specified in the Important Information section. It is not for consumer use in other countries. Please do not redistribute.

This factsheet contains a summary of the Invesco Euro Corporate Bond UCITS ETF¹, an exchange traded fund (ETF), and is for discussion purposes only. Please consult the Key Investor Information Document and prospectus and note the additional important information overleaf.

Investment objective

The Invesco Euro Corporate Bond UCITS ETF aims to provide the performance of the Bloomberg Barclays Euro Corporate Index, after the impact of fees.

Key advantages

- Transparent fees and costs

Key risks

- No capital protection: you may not get back the amount you invested
- No guarantee that the ETF will track the index exactly
- Changes in the exchange rate between base currency and trading currency may affect returns

About the index

The Bloomberg Barclays Euro Corporate Index measures the performance of the investment grade, euro-denominated, fixed-rate corporate bond market. Index inclusion is based on currency denomination of a bond, not the country risk of the issuer. Index constituents are capitalisation weighted. Securities must be rated investment grade (Baa3/BBB-/BBB- or higher) using the middle rating of Moody's, S&P and Fitch. The Fund and the Index are rebalanced and reconstituted on a monthly basis.

Performance

The table shows performance over the past five years to the most recent month end. ETF performance is in the fund's base currency and includes reinvested dividends. ETF performance is based on Net Asset Value after management fees and other ETF costs but does not consider any commissions or custody fees payable when buying, holding or selling the ETF. The ETF does not charge entry or exit fees. Each period starts at the end of the indicated month. The first indicated month may not represent a full month and may start only on the launch/restructuring date indicated in this factsheet. Past performance (actual or simulated) is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

What are ETFs?

ETFs are open-ended UCITS funds. Unlike traditional open-ended funds, ETFs can be bought and sold on a stock exchange like ordinary shares.

How does this ETF achieve its investment objective?

The ETF uses physical replication to aim to achieve the target index performance. The ETF invests its assets directly in the constituents of the benchmark index.

Further information on the ETFs (including information on their portfolio composition), their Prospectus, Key Investor Information Documents and Supplements are available at etf.invesco.com, or from your financial adviser or broker. The products described on etf.invesco.com are not suitable for everyone. Investors' capital is at risk and they may get back less than they invested. Past performance is not a guide to future performance, and investors should not deal in these products unless they understand their nature and the extent of their exposure to risk. The value of these products can go down as well as up and can be subject to volatility due to factors such as price changes in the underlying instrument and interest rates. Tax treatment depends on the individual circumstances of each investor and potential investor, and may be subject to change. Where individuals or the business have expressed opinions, they are based on current market conditions, they may differ from those of other investment professionals and are subject to change without notice. UCITS ETF's units / shares purchased on the secondary market cannot usually be sold directly back to UCITS ETF. Investors must buy and sell units / shares on a secondary market with the assistance of an intermediary (e.g. a stockbroker) and may incur fees for doing so. In addition, investors may pay more than the current net asset value when buying units / shares and may receive less than the current net asset value when selling them.
